

We Are All Shipwrecks: A Memoir of Redemption, Resilience, and the Power of Hope

In her deeply personal and inspiring memoir, We Are All Shipwrecks, acclaimed author and speaker Joshilyn Jackson shares her journey from the depths of despair to the heights of redemption. With raw honesty and unflinching courage, Jackson chronicles her battle with addiction, her struggles with mental illness, and the transformative power of hope.

Jackson's story begins in the idyllic coastal town of Tybee Island, Georgia, where she spent her childhood surrounded by the beauty of the natural world. However, her idyllic upbringing was shattered when she was sexually abused by a family friend. The trauma of this abuse led Jackson down a path of self-destruction, and she began using drugs and alcohol to numb the pain.

As her addiction spiraled out of control, Jackson lost everything: her job, her home, her relationships. She hit rock bottom when she was arrested for DUI and sentenced to jail. It was in jail that Jackson finally realized that she needed to change her life. She began attending Alcoholics Anonymous meetings and working with a therapist, and slowly but surely, she began to rebuild her life.

Today, Jackson is a successful author, speaker, and advocate for addiction recovery. She has spoken to audiences all over the world about her journey, and her work has helped countless people to find hope and healing. We Are All Shipwrecks is a powerful and moving memoir that will inspire anyone who has ever struggled with addiction or adversity to believe that recovery is possible.
